

Transform into new coordinate system with directions to largest variance (called Principal Components)